

The British Inter-university China Centre

The Global Politics of China

Saturday 28 November 2009
University of Manchester

9:00-10:45am

Panel One: China's Future – and the World's Future

Chair: William A. Callahan (Manchester)

Pal Nyiri (Amsterdam), China's Overseas Projects and the Re-emergence of Concessions

David Kelly (University of Technology, Sydney), China, Australia and the Global South

Marieke Ohlberg (Heidelberg), Creating a Favourable World Opinion: Changes in Chinese
Propaganda Targeted at Foreigners, 1989-2009

Zheng Feng (Tsinghua, China), Historical Myths and Contemporary Chinese IR Thinking

Merriden Varrall (Macquarie University), China's New Global Role: Views from Beijing

William A. Callahan (Manchester), Patriotic Cosmopolitanism: China's Nonofficial Intellectuals Dream of the Future

Panels Two and Three: Diversity and Mobility

11:00am-12:45pm

Panel Two: The Politics of Diversity: Minorities and Immigrants

Chair: Elena Barabantseva (University of Manchester)

Discussant: Pal Nyiri (Free University Amsterdam)

Barry Sautman, Hong Kong University of Science and Technology

'Scaling Back Minority Rights?: the New Debate about China's Ethnic Policies'

Dibyesh Anand (Westminster University)

Tibet and China's Global Public Diplomacy

Wooyeal Paik (Ewha Womans University and Chinese Academy of Social Science) and Myungsik Ham (Jilin University)

From Autonomous Diasporas to Non-Autonomous Diasporas: The Politics of Korean Minority Migration in Contemporary China

Frank N. Pieke (University of Oxford)
Immigrant China

Pang Lihua (Peking University)
Trends and Characteristics of Foreigners Living in China, 1978-2008

Lunch: 12.45-1.45pm

1:45-3:30pm

Panel Three: Chinese Foreigners and Foreign Chinese

Chair: Frank Pieke (University of Oxford)

Discussant: Barry Sautman (Hong Kong University of Science and Technology)

Wang Huiyao (Centre for China and Globalization and the China Western Returned Scholars Association, Beijing)

Chinese Returnees: Thriving Forces behind China's Globalization

Cong Cao (State University of New York)

Who Returned to China from the U.S.?

Sara Sterling and Ching Lin Pang (University of Leuven)

'Managing Multi-mobility and Multi-Layered Identity in China: How Ethnic Chinese-Venezuelan Returnees Cope with Chinese Language, Culture, and Identity'

Elena Y. Sadovskaya (Research Council on the CIS States Migration Studies, Centre for Migration Studies, Institute of Economic Prognosis, Russian Academy of Sciences Almaty, Kazakhstan)

Chinese Migration Patterns to Kazakhstan in the 2000s: Dynamics and Structure

Yoon Jung Park (University of Johannesburg)

Contemporary Chinese Migration to Africa

Solange Guo Chatelard (Fondation Nationales des Sciences Politiques, Paris)

Chinese Footprints in Africa: An Ethnography of the First Generation of Chinese Migrants in Zambia

3:45-5.30pm

Panel Four (parallel with Panel Five): Internationalisation and Civil Society Organisations in China

Chair: Rachel Murphy (University of Oxford)

Dr Eileen Walsh, Oxford

International support for Chinese lawyers

Dr Cecilia Milwertz, NIAS

The Relational Becoming of Popular Organizing for Social Change - the case of the Yunnan Reproductive Health Research Association

Mr Edward O'Donovan, Frontline,
Working with Human Rights Defenders in China; A Case Study

Dr Sylvia So, World Vision
NGOs and Localisation: a way to reveal and accomodate cultural differences?

Panel 5—Sino-European Relations: Sectoral Dialogue and its contribution to Strategic Goals

Chair: Winnie King (University of Bristol, BICC Fellow)

Discussant: Jianxiang Bi (University of West England)

Speakers:

Jing Men and Benjamin Barton (College of Europe, Bruges)
Climate Change and EU-China Partnership

Alanna Krolikowski (University of Toronto)

EU-China technology transfers in the space and aircraft sectors: A comparative perspective with reference to the US

Philippa Jones (China Research Network)

Trade and Economic Dialogues: Where the EU plays a Strong China Hand

Jianxiang Bi (University of West England)

The Security Linkages of China and the EU: Peacekeeping in Africa

Please send registration enquiries to daniel.holloway@area.ox.ac.uk