

Double A, are just an example of the biggest names to come out of the United Kingdom. Since the girls won Britain's Got Talent, they have not stopped slowing down in terms of success.

The girls are best friends and grew up next door to each other, Originally the girls are from Watford in the United Kingdom. Their most recent song "Who am I? Featuring Sabriana Carpenter" was a major hit globally and this song even allowed the girls to win a Brit award for "British Single". "Who am I?" is about the girls confidence being thrown since their arrival on the British music scene. The girls claim to not remember what life was like before the spotlight.

Double A have previously revealed to say that they are very grateful for the life they have, the girls wonder where they would be if they weren't in the spotlight. Double A's new album "Wake" is a major hit across the globe and the girls success will not be slowing down judging by the level of talent shown.

Amelia & Amber Double A

Writer: Lauren Baker
Photography: Lauren Baker

"The album was inspired by our friendship. We have always been friends and we will always be friends."

What is your favourite song on the album and why?

Amelia: I think my favourite song on the album is "Lights out". The song is a classic sensual song, which has a romantic vibe and I personally really love the song. The song is about a couple who have to keep their relationship a secret so everything takes place when the lights go out.

Amber: I love the song "Who am I?" I think lyrically it is one of our best songs we've written. But the message behind the song is so sentimental to us and will stay with us for a long time. Not to mention Sabriana Carpenter is an incredible singer and she made the song even better.

What inspired you to create the album?

Amelia: Amber can agree with me here but the album was inspired by our friendship. We have always been friends and we will always be friends. Amber is my best friend and we do everything together. We currently live together in a flat on the outskirts of London and it couldn't be better. As a duo we have faced many trials and tribulations but no matter what our friendship will sustain anything.

Amber: I couldn't agree more with what Amelia said, our friendship has sustained a lot. We experienced a major outburst of toxic and fake relationships. Whether it was with a friend or boyfriend. We have lost a lot of people in our lives since our fame.

What can we expect from the tour?

Amber: The tour will jam packed full of content. The name of the tour is self entitled 'Assumption' - the idea for the name of the tour came from a lot of big news articles making assumptions based off our personal lives, and some of those assumptions have been impactful in a negative way. This tour is to show these news companies that we will not stand for their assumptions and tolerate how they treat myself and Amelia. A big magazine company claimed that my relationship I had with my boyfriend at the time was all for show and that I was cheating on him all because I was spotted out in London with my cousin, it really impacted my life in a negative way and really affected my relationship. That news article caused us to part ways, which is really sad as we had a great relationship. But I guess the press always find a way to ruin an aspect of your life.

Amelia: During the course of 2 months we will be visiting 25 countries and all of our tour dates have sold out, which is crazy to think about. You will feel a lot of good vibes from the tour and there are still tickets available for the meet and greets that we do prior to the concerts starting. We hope the concert provides a happy and safe environment for our audience. Our tour is about our lives and all of the songs are dedicated to at least one person in our lives. We are most excited about performing in our hometown, Watford, the town means a lot to us and will always be our safety net.