

How is Ellie coping going solo?

“I LOVE BEING SOLO”

“I LOVE MY FANS”

“I don't think I could ever be friends with her again” Ellie says

Exclusive interview with Arla about the SPLIT

We asked Arla and Ellie about how they were coping with the split and how there careers are going now that they have split and now solo.

My personal opinion over Arla is that the fame has eaten her and I don't think we will ever get the old Arla back, she is gone. She has this facade that she puts on for her audience/ fans and she is so good at hiding it.

Next it was Ellie's turn, a 18 year old girl was sat crossed legged wearing black ripped jeans, a white crop top and a green denim jacket with white Nike trainers on, she looked approachable and friendly before she saw me she was helping people and signing autographs for little children she said.

“Thank you so much guys, I have the best fans ever, your support means the world.”

From Double to Trouble. Today Shuffle are with these trendy teens Arla and Ellie, a couple who have caused nothing but havoc recently. After being together for 3 years they have decided to call it quits and things have not ended well. Do you think they will ever make up and be the besties they always were? Well read on and find out what Shuffle think and what they, themselves think about the future.

Firstly, I decided I would interview 19 year old Arla. She sat very lady- like on a white stool with a short denim skirt and a shiny silver bandeau top on she look pleasantly bored out of mind chewing gum as loudly as she possibly could with her whole makeup team surrounding her like she was prey, it was clear that Arla was not taking any prisoners that morning as she screamed “Hurry up, would you? I don't pay you to stand around and look pretty. That's my job”

“Hurry up, would you? I don't pay you to stand around and look pretty. That's my job”

However on realising that I had entered the dressing room she changed, she put on this other persona and was a sweet little happy teenager who was happy being rich and famous. I decided to get straight into the interview with her and asked her how she was finding being a new female solo artist and her feeling towards Ellie were “ I DON'T want to waste my breath on her okay I would rather not answer any questions about HER, she has done nothing but ruin my career and reputation.” She wasn't very keen to answer my questions.

Once she had finished with her fans I decided to go straight over and introduce myself she seemed very excited to meet me and was looking forward to the interview. The interview seemed really relaxed and chilled and seemed to be going good that I started asking her about Arla and what her opinion and view was on it, she replied “ Even though we didn't end on good terms I wish Arla all the best in life and I hope she enjoys being a soloist.” She looked happy when saying it but also a bit sad could she possibly still want to be friends with Arla?
