Fleur-Coretta Sinclair

I am a free-spirited, nature-loving girl. My passions include travelling, attending music festivals and spending time with my animals. I have a King Charles Spaniel called Buttercup and I love spending time with her. I work as a travel agent for Thompson and specialise in holidays to exotic destinations such as Fiji or the Mediteranian. I'm care-free and am always up for a new venture.

I have previously been quite unlucky in the dating scene. Not many of my past relationships have worked out and I am searching for a more mature man to settle down with and form a close bond with. I enjoy my independence so will still require some me-time; however; I would love someone to partake in new journeys with me.

In 5 years I see myself travelling with my significant other. I hope to embark on many adventures throughout my life and achieve true independence.

People are generally attracted to my overall aura. I'm positive, carefree and a freedom-seeker. This is often appealing to the opposite sex.

In my spare time, I like to spend time with my puppy, I also enjoy socialising with my friends and family. Another one of my favourite things to do is travel to new places and experience new things such as: new foods or activities.

I couldn't live without Lana Del Rey music, she is my favourite artist and I feel that I connect with her music. I enjoy looking at new fashion trends on pinterest and in magazines and I love researching new, local talent from my area in East London.
