

The undergraduate experience of support services: A comparative study of motivation, resilience and engagement with student support.

Research Questions

Q1. Is academic success improved through engagement with student support services?

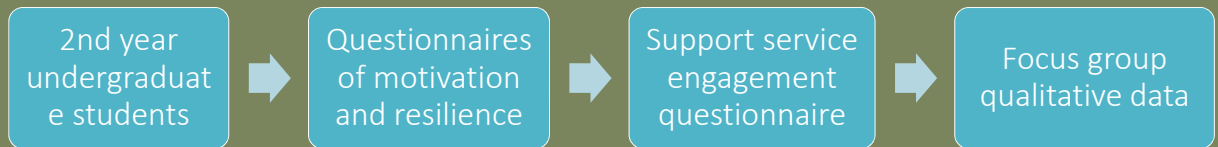

Q2. Is engagement with support services and resources influenced by levels of motivation or resilience?

Q3 How do these findings compare across different disciplines?

Methodology

Rationale

To establish patterns of engagement with support services.

To improve precise targeting of services.

To encourage further engagement with support services.

What Next?

If funding is successful the project will run from Sept 2018 to June 2019.

Possible research to assess interventions.

Student constructed support programmes.

How Can You Help?

University wide collaboration.

School leaders could encourage participation.

Data collection of grades, retention and all current support services.

Contact:

Lpickerell@lincoln.ac.uk

@PhdPickerell

