

Launch Event video recording – contents list

Thursday 22 October 2020

00:00 mins	The event starts with an intro from Niccola
Our history
09:55 mins	Laura shares a little about where we started and a statement from our current funder Wellcome Trust
16:03 mins	Graham from UCL Population Health shares his journey to learning more about what genuine co-production is all about
Who are we?
22:06 mins	Cristina (complete with hair in the new brand colours!) shares the big reveal of our new name and identity
26:19 mins	Scott tells everyone more about our new co-produced Priorities for 2020-2022 document
People and stories - the heart of co-production
32:40 mins	Lizzie shares a little background on what the CoPro Stories campaign is all about
34:00 mins	Hayley & Anna H talk about Community Reporting and the People's Voice Media approach to story curation
50:50 mins	An update on the live illustration from Anna G, New Possibilities
How can I get involved?
59:26 mins	Nicc & Cristina share info on how you can get involved, or how we might be able to work with you
Co-production in practice
01:09:06 mins	Katherine introduces the Co-pro Pilot projects funded by Co-Production Collective (formerly UCL Centre for Co-production)
01:12:49 mins	Anna L-J talks a little about the pilot that they were involved in, Hearing Birdsong
01:22:14 mins	Anna P & Vita share a little background on their pilot, Maternity Voices Matter
01:28:48 mins	Q & A with Anna L-J, Adrian, Anna P & Vita
Thank yous and celebrations
01:37:14	Mandy shares a little about our Creative Co-production session with Gill Phillips of Whose Shoes? (part of CoProLive) including a live co-produced poem!
01:40:15	Mark talks a little about the Co-pro Cuppa and Be More Pirate CoProLive sessions and then moves on to showcase our new t-shirts!
01:50:35	The event ends