

Which is which?Super Challenge 3

1. There, their, and they're all sound the same, but they have different spellings and different meanings. Circle the correct word in each of these sentences:
- How long have you lived there / their / they're?
 - There* / their / they're not ready yet.
 - I hope there / their / they're going to bring there / their / they're dogs.
 - There* / their / they're coats are over there / their / they're.
2. Can you make up a sentence for each word in the pair to show the difference in their meanings? You can look up the words in the Oxford School Dictionary first to help you. You can use the plural form of nouns or different parts of verbs if you like (for example, planes or alluded).

Example:

plane and plain

We watched planes landing at the airport.
She was wearing a plain blue dress.
