

PARENTAL INVOLVEMENT/PARENT COUNCIL

Close links between home and school are a necessary foundation for children's education.

The school values communication with parents and will make every effort to ensure that opportunity is provided for parent/teacher contact. Parents are welcome to support in school at any time.

The School Board legislation was replaced by the 'Parental Involvement Act 2006'. As a result School Boards ceased to exist from 01 August 2007. Parent Forums were introduced from October 2006 with each school having the option of having a Parent Council formally in place as from 01 August 2007.

At present, Glencorse Primary School does not have a Parent Council. However there has been established, by the school, a 'Friends of Glencorse' group which consists of parents who organise a number of events throughout the year eg Christmas Fayre and help at sports day. These events are fun for the children, a way of bringing the community together and a vital source of additional funds to a small school. Please let us know if you wish to be involved in any way, your help and support would be greatly appreciated.

Throughout the session parents will be asked to complete questionnaires and asked for feedback on events, issues and projects. This information is important as it helps us to form future planning.

Once a month, on a Thursday afternoon, the dininghall is open for parents to meet together with the Headteacher for a chat.
