

Little Red Riding Hood.

Drama online learning first level

January 2021

For the next few weeks, we will be using the traditional tale of Little Red Riding Hood as a stimulus for our work in drama.

I've written a copy of the story below in case you don't have one. You can also look it up online too.

Please choose some or all the tasks below to work on over the next three weeks.

Try your best - when it comes to drama there are no right or wrong answers - just your answers!

Looking forward to seeing you all again soon,

Have fun!

Ms Aird

P.S. Some of the words I've included in the story are Scottish, I've put the meanings after the story...someone you know might be able to tell you more Scottish words to add to it!

The story of Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf.

Once upon a time, there lived a wee lass called Little Red Riding Hood. She wore a beautiful red cape that her grannie had made for her. One day, her mither said, "Come ben Little Red Riding Hood. Your grannie is wabbit, take this basket of food to her but mind to stay on the path when you go through the forest."

Little Red Riding Hood set off to her grannie's house. She lived on the other side of a forest. As Little Red Riding Hood was going through the wood, she met a pawky wolf. He was waiting for her to get closer and closer and closer and then.... he jumped out from behind a tree! The wolf asked. "Where are you going hen?" Little Red Riding Hood said, "I am going to see my grannie coz she's wabbit."

The sleekit wolf looked at her and said, "See these pretty flooers? Why not pick some, I ken your grannie would love them." "The very dab," said Little Red Riding Hood, and she stepped off the path to look for flowers for her grandma.

Then the wolf ran to grannie's house and chapped on the door. 'Chap, chap, chap!!' "Whose there?" asked grandma. "Little Red Riding Hood" replied the wolf. Grandma whispered, "Come in hen, I'm fair puggled and cannae come to the door." The wolf let himself in. Poor granny did not have time to say another word, before the greedy wolf gobbled her up! He put on her nightgown and nightcap. He lowped into granny's bed and pulled the covers over his neb.

Unaware of what happened, Little Red Riding Hood got to her granny's house and chapped on the door: 'Chap, chap!' Behind the door, a hoarse voice answered: 'Is it you, Little Red Riding Hood? Come in! Come in!'. Now Little Red Riding Hood knew that her granny may feel very ill, but her voice sounded awfy strange, so, feeling a bit worried, she stepped in the house.

Little Red Riding Hood was very surprised when she saw her granny: 'Granny, what ever happened to you? What big lugs you have? the girl asked amazed. 'All the better to hear you with', the wolf answered. 'And what big een you have? continued Little Red Riding Hood. "All the better to see you! said the wolf. 'And what about those big sharp teeth?', carried on Little Red Riding Hood. 'All the better to gobble you up!", shouted the wolf and with a jump and a gulp he gobbled Little Red Riding Hood up 'Yum!', he said, patting his large tummy.

But the wolf didn't know that a wood cutter was just passing by. He had listened to Little Red Riding Hood talking to the wolf. At first, he also thought that granny had quite a coarse voice but soon he realised that something odd was happening and he rushed into the house exactly when the wolf was patting his tummy: 'You greedy wolf! Spit oot what you swallowed, or you'll be sorry!', the man shouted and gave the wolf a dunt! Surprised and frightened, the wolf immediately spat Little Red Riding Hood and her grannie out of his tummy and the wolf ran away into the forest, fair fizzin.

Little Red Riding Hood and her granny thanked the brave man for rescuing them. Granny even started feeling a bit better after eating some of the lovely food Little Red Riding Hood had brought.

Wee = little

Lass = girl

Mind - remember

Pawky = sneaky

Hen = girl/woman

Sleekit = sneaky

Floors = flowers

Dab = thing

Chapped = knocked

Chap = knock

puggled = exhausted

cannae = can't lowped = jumped neb = nose

awfy = very

lugs = ears

een = eyes

oot = out

a dunt = a bash

fizzin' = furious

Please choose some or all the tasks below to work on over the next three weeks.

Try your best - when it comes to drama there are no right or wrong answers - just your answers!

Looking forward to seeing you all again soon,

Have fun!

Ms Aird

ACTIVITIES

Week beginning	Activity
11.1.21	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Read or listen to the story (copy provided below or find a version on you tube to listen to)</li></ul>

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Which parts/key moments from the story stick in your mind?</li><li>• Choose 6 key moments and draw them in order, (starting with your first key moment and ending with your final key moment), a bit like a cartoon or comic strip. You might want to add a title to each picture (e.g., Little Red Riding Hood walking through the forest). Include as much detail as you can - and colour your drawings in.</li></ul>
18.1.21	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Think about the part of the story that tells you about Little Red riding Hood meeting the wolf. Pretend you are Little Red Riding Hood...what would you say to the wolf? What do you think the wolf would say?</li><li>• Make a wolf mask out of junk to wear when you are being the wolf. (see instructions below)</li><li>• Improvise this conversation, with you playing both characters! (You could wear a piece of red cloth for a cape as Little Red Riding Hood to show when you are pretending to be her).</li><li>• Or improvise the conversation when the wolf meets grannie.</li><li>• If you would like to, take pictures of you being the</li></ul> characters of grannie, the wolf and little red riding hood.

25.1.21	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Use a clean paper plate (or cut out a large circle from junk card or paper) and create a story plate - use this to retell the story of Little Red Riding Hood to someone else. (instructions on how to make this will be found at the very end of this piece of work.)</li><li>• Make a drawing or collage of the forest - use twigs to make trees and scrap paper for the tops of the trees. Remember to decorate the sky and the forest floor too - think about which characters you could add to your picture and draw them too...you might want to hide the wolf in your picture!</li></ul>

Easy wolf mask

Copyright © www.ActivityVillage.co.uk - Keeping Kids Busy

You will need:

Card
Elastic
coloured pens/pencils
Wool

Instructions:

Draw the shape of a wolf's head onto card, paper, paper plate, use the outline template if you like.

Colour the face to make it look like a wolf. (look at some pictures of real wolves to give you ideas)

You could add some wool to your mask too.

Get an adult to punch a hole either side of the mask and tie some elastic through, knotting it to fit your head.

Story plate.

You will need -

A paper plate.

Colored pencils or pens

Some extra bits and bobs to add texture - optional.

To make

Find the middle of the paper plate circle and mark it lightly with a pencil.

Divide the plate circle in half first by folding the top edge of the plate to the bottom edge at the opposite side, crease this fold lightly, and open out the plate again.

Divide the plate circle into quarters by folding the right side to the left side and crease this fold lightly. Open your plate out again and draw a line down the two creases...

Make sure you draw a line on the plate to define each section ...

You now have 4 sections - in each section of the circle draw something that will help to remind you of each part of the story. Make sure you draw the pictures in sequence (the right order) Color in the pictures.

If you want, you could add some texture to your story plate drawings (e.g. twigs to represent the trees in the forest)

Done!