Opportunities for Adults and Families

Adult Literacies, Numeracy and ESOL (English for Speakers of Other Languages) Service— free learning for adults across Midlothian

Learners can improve skills needed to get into work, or to achieve personal goals like going to college. There's also the opportunity to work towards recognised Scottish Qualification Authority qualifications, including Communications, ESOL and Numeracy.

Classes and one to one sessions are available in centres throughout Midlothian. Groups in the Lasswade and Loanhead areas have included the Ready for Retail course in partnership with IKEA, and ESOL support in Loanhead Library.

Recent successes have included learners passing the new pilot qualification, the Adult Achievement awards. Learners on the Core Skills for Employability project have gained entrance to Newbattle College courses after working on their interview skills and writing application forms.

Many ESOL learners passed the new National ESOL qualifications, with results from level 2 to level 5. The Syrian Refugee Resettlement Programme is progressing well.

In June all of Midlothian Council's learners were invited to attend a Celebration of Learning event to receive certificates of achievement from Dalkeith's Provost.

If you are interested in improving your reading, writing, numbers and computer skills then contact Neil Saddington on 0131 270 8904 or email neil.saddington@midlothian.gov.uk

If your first language isn't English and you want to improve your skills, please contact Clare Cameron on 0131 270 8906 or email clare.cameron@midlothian.gov.uk

Focus Team

The Focus Team provide a 1:1 support service for adults (16 to 64 years) who are experiencing barriers in getting into training, education or employment. The criteria for qualifying for assistance is that they have a disability/health condition or are experiencing barriers such as literacy, numeracy, lack of skills etc. Support can be given both on a 1:1 basis and in groups to identify goals and vocational plans, secure work experience and support with getting into employment, education and training. Referrals should be made to llefocus@midlothian.gov.uk

Home Link Family Support needs Midlothian Volunteers

We are a unique volunteering service that supports parents with young children and we are looking for new recruits in Midlothian – would you like to join us?

Everyone knows that bringing up small children can be tough at times. Most parents rely on grandparents, friends or extended family to help out occasionally. But some parents don't have anyone to support them or even anyone to chat to about the ups and downs of family life.

This is where our volunteers can step in to offer friendly help and support.

The fully trained volunteers are carefully matched with one family and they visit them in the family's home for 2 or 3 hours a week. Each family needs something different but volunteers can take the pressure off by playing and reading with children, and by talking things through with parents, encouraging them with gentle non judgemental support.

You don't need to be a parent to volunteer. You just need to be over 18, positive and reliable.

Our next volunteer training is in Dalkeith at the end of August. Have a look at our website for more details www.homelinkfamilysupport.org or give us a ring for a chat about volunteering 0131 661 0890.

Contact your Communities Officer, Catherine Duns for more information, 0131 270 5769 or catherine.duns@midlothian.gov.uk
