Finding E-Books

E-Books are a fantastic resource, especially if you are on placement, working away from campus or when the Library is closed, or all the print copies are checked out.

You can search for E-Books via our library catalogue or single search engine Discovery. Alternatively, you can search on any of our E-Book providers' websites.

Using the Library Catalogue

To find books on the catalogue, enter your search term (title, author, keyword etc.) into the box next to the 'All Fields' drop-down menu and click 'Search', as in the example below:

Once the results list has displayed, to limit your results to E-Books select the tick box next to 'E-Books' on the Limit Search Results toolbar on the left. The E-Book limiter is under the 'Library' subheading:

This will then take you to the provider website, where you will usually need to log-in to be able to access the titles.

The following instruction will take you through how to log-in to each provider.

ProQuest Ebook Central

ProQuest took over one of our previous providers, so there'll be one of two different ways to log-in to access an E-book, depending on who it was originally bought from.

The following instructions begin after you have clicked the catalogue link.

Route 1 (MyiLibrary):

Click the 'View all Institutions' option, at the bottom of the 'Institutional Access' section.

Login

If you have a MyiLibrary user name and password, enter it below to login

Institutional Access

You may be able to login using your institution's login credentials. Please select your institution's location from the drop down menu below, or click here to view all Institutions.

Select your location

GO

View all Institutions >

OpenAthens

If you are an Athens user, please click here to access the OpenAthens Authentication Point >

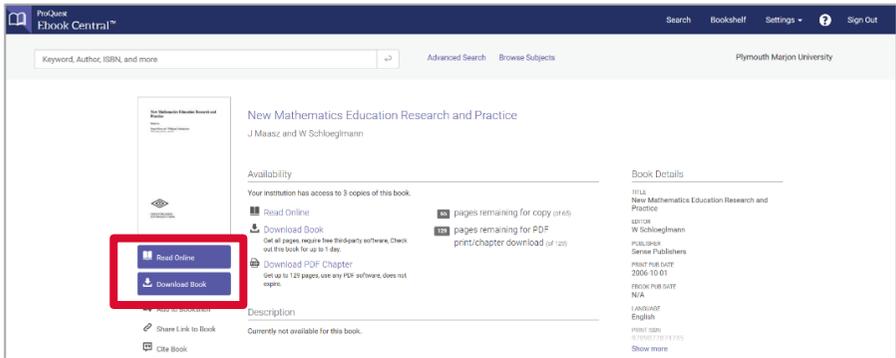

On the next page a long list of institutions will display. Use the 'Ctrl+F' option to search the webpage for 'Mark' and click 'University of St. Mark & St. John' in the list. You can also just scroll down the list to find it:

This will then take you to the Marjon login page, where you can enter your standard University username and password:

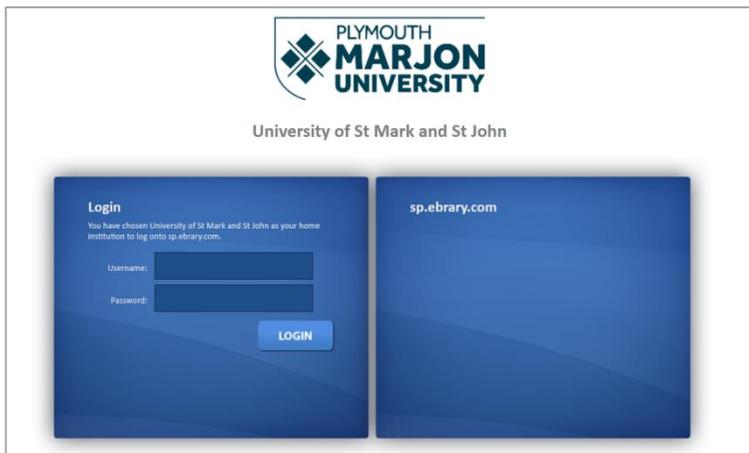

If you've correctly logged in, the book you originally selected will display, along with the viewing options on the left-hand side of the page. In this example you can 'Read Online' and/or 'Download Book':

Route 2 (ProQuest):

Once the link is clicked the Marjon login page, where you can enter your standard University username and password, will appear:

If you've correctly logged in, the book you originally selected will display, along with the viewing options on the left-hand side of the page. In this example you can 'Read Online' and/or 'Download Book':

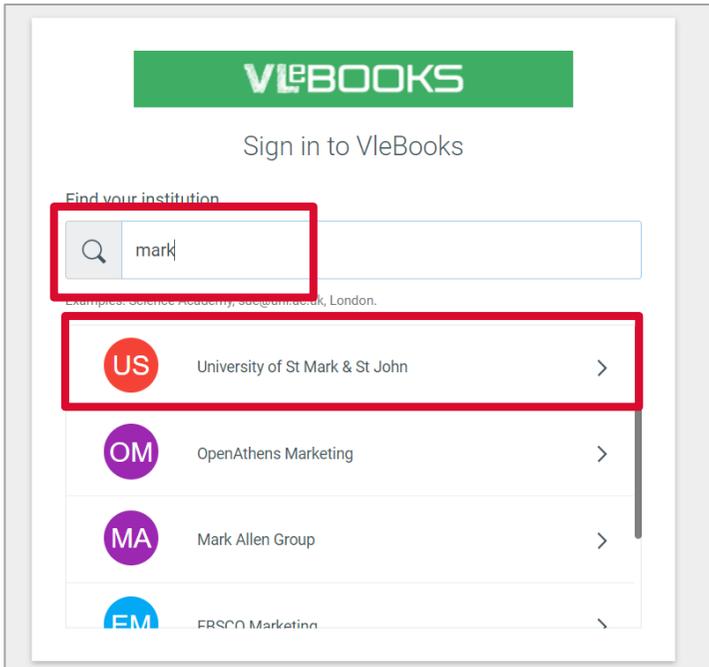

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Ebook Central interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "Keyword, Author, ISBN, and more" and navigation links for "Advanced Search", "Browse Subjects", and "Plymouth Marjon University". The main content area displays the book "Football Biomechanics" by Hirayuki Nunome, Ewald Hennig, and Neal Smith. Under the "Availability" section, there are three options: "Read Online" (with a note that the institution has unlimited access), "Download Book" (with a note that all pages require free third-party software), and "Download PDF Chapter" (with a note that it is for up to 75 pages). The "Read Online" and "Download Book" buttons are highlighted with a red box. To the right, the "Book Details" section lists the title, ISBNs, edition, editors, publisher, and publication date.

Browns VLEBooks

Once the catalogue link is clicked the VLEBooks login page will appear. You need to click the Shibboleth button on the right-hand side of the page:

The screenshot shows the VLEBooks login page. At the top, there is a green header with the "VLEBOOKS" logo. Below the header, the word "Welcome" is centered. A paragraph of text explains that VLEBooks is a fantastic new way for students to access their eBook catalogue. Below this text are four buttons: "Enquiries", "About Us", "FAQ's", and "Accessibility Statement". The page is divided into two main sections: "Login using Account" and "Sign in below". The "Login using Account" section has three input fields: "Organisation ID" (with a note that fields marked with * are required), "Username", and "Password", followed by a "Logon" button. The "Sign in below" section has a list of buttons for different authentication methods: "Shibboleth" (highlighted with a red box), "OpenAthens", "RM Unify", "Office 365", and "Google".

On the next page, type the word 'mark' into the 'Find your institution' box and then click the option for 'University of St. Mark & St. John':

On the next page the Marjon login box, where you can enter your standard University username and password, will appear:

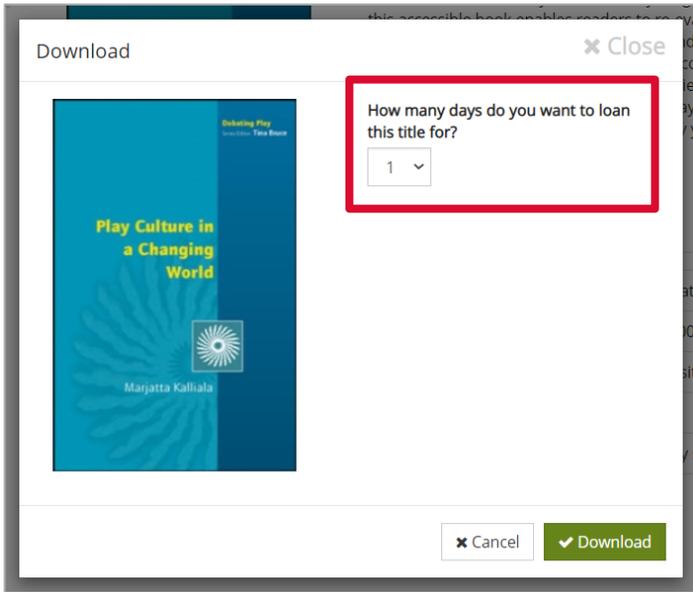

If you've correctly logged in, the book you selected will display, along with the viewing options below the image of the cover– for example, 'Read Online' and 'Download':

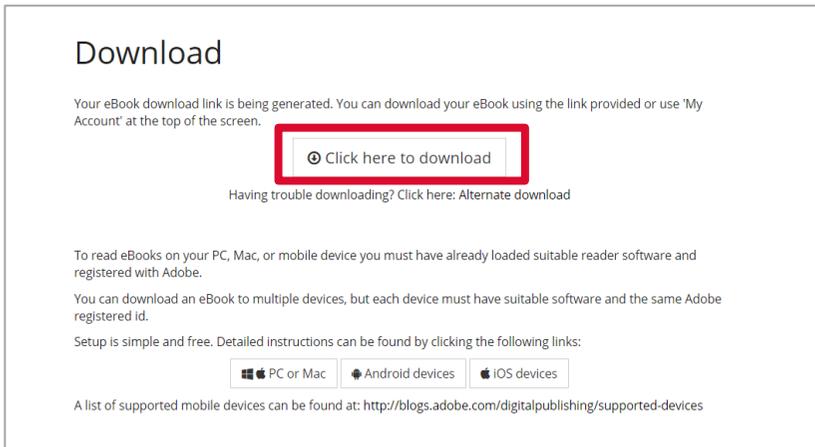

The screenshot shows the VleBooks interface for a book titled "Play Culture in a Changing World" by Marjatta Kalliala. The page layout includes a green header with the VleBooks logo and a search bar. Below the header is a navigation menu with icons for Home, Bookshelf, Advanced Search, and Help. On the right side of the header, there are links for My Account and Logout. The main content area features a sidebar on the left with options like "Email your library", "Edit Accessibility Settings", "My Bookshelves", and "Recent Quick Searches". The central part of the page displays the book cover, the title, and the author's name. To the right of the cover is a descriptive paragraph about the book's content. Below the cover, there are two buttons: "Read Online" and "Download", both of which are highlighted with a red rectangular box. At the bottom of the cover area, there is an "Add to Bookshelf" button. On the right side of the page, there are tabs for "Details" and "Table of Contents". Below these tabs is a table with the following information:

Author	Kalliala, Marjatta
EAN	9780335226009
Publisher	Open University Press
Published	31/12/2006

If the download option is available, after clicking the 'Download' link a pop-up box displays, with a drop-down menu where you can select the loan period:

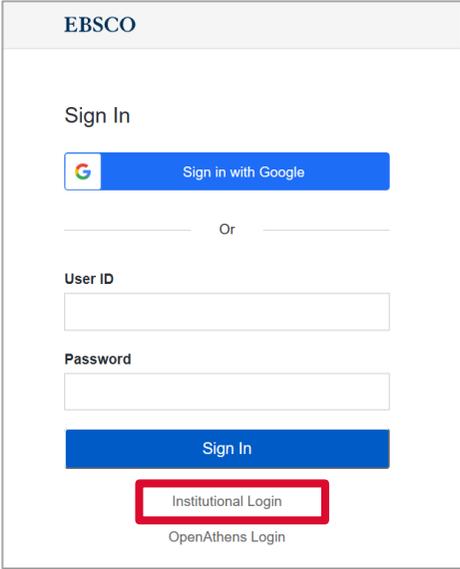

The platform will then generate an E-Book download link, which displays as a progress bar. When it's complete a link will appear on the page:

You'll need to have Adobe Digital editions, which is free, installed to view the downloaded file. A link and instructions are provided at the bottom of the page with the download link, or you can find the software here: <http://bit.ly/MJLadobe>

EBSCO eBooks

Once the catalogue link is clicked an EBSCO Sign In box will display. You need to click the 'Institutional Login' option below the main Sign In option:

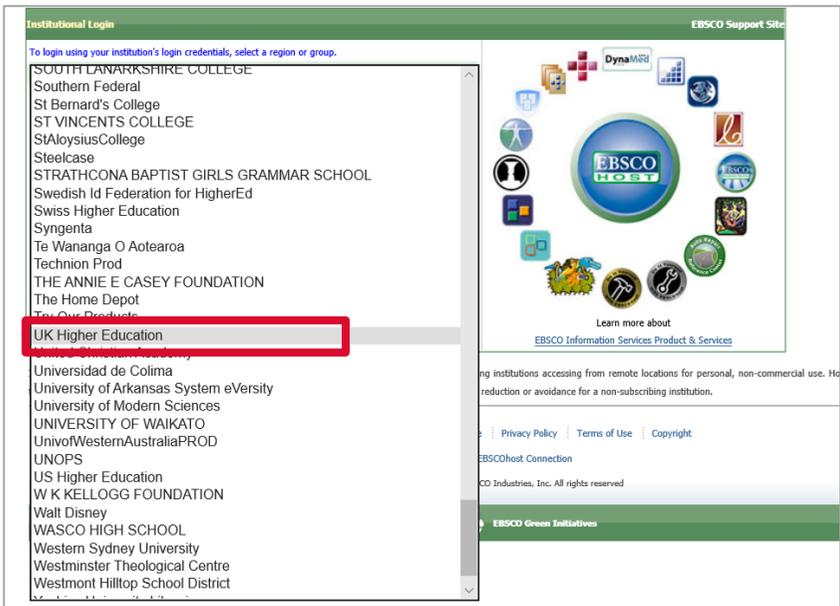

The image shows the EBSCO Sign In interface. At the top, the EBSCO logo is displayed. Below it, the text "Sign In" is centered. There is a blue button with the Google logo and the text "Sign in with Google". Below this button is a horizontal line with the word "Or" in the center. Underneath, there are two input fields: "User ID" and "Password". Below these fields is a blue button with the text "Sign In". At the bottom, there are two options: "Institutional Login" and "OpenAthens Login". The "Institutional Login" option is highlighted with a red rectangular border.

On the next page click on the 'Select your region or group' drop down menu to expand the list from the top left of the page:

Scroll down the expanded list and click 'UK Higher Education':

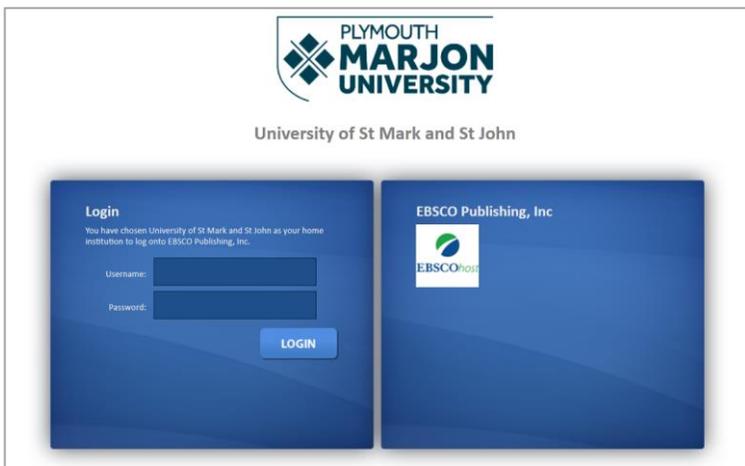

On the next page a long list of institutions will display. Use the 'Ctrl+F' option to search the webpage for 'Mark' and click 'University of St.

Mark & St. John' in the list. You can also just scroll down the list to find it:

- University of Southampton
- University of St Andrews
- University of St Mark & St John
- University of Stirling
- University of Strathclyde

On the next page the Marjon login box, where you can enter your standard University username and password, will appear:

If you've correctly logged in, the book you selected will display, along with the viewing options in the left-hand side bar– for example, 'PDF Full Text' 'EPUB' Full Text' or 'Full Download':

The screenshot shows the EBSCO eBooks search results page for the book "Research Methods in Education". The search criteria are "AN 1614634". The book details include authors (Cohen, Louis; Mason, Lawrence; Morrison, Keith), publication information (8th edition, 2018), and resource type (eBook). A red box highlights the "Detailed Record", "PDF Full Text", "EPUB Full Text", and "Full Download" options on the left side of the page.

EBSCO eBooks – Download

If you're trying to download an EBSCO eBook you'll need to use the 'Sign In' option to login to your EBSCO account, at the top right of the page:

The screenshot shows the EBSCO eBooks search results page for the book "Research Methods in Education". The search criteria are "AN 1614634". The book details include authors (Cohen, Louis; Mason, Lawrence; Morrison, Keith), publication information (8th edition, 2018), and resource type (eBook). A red box highlights the "Sign In" button in the top right corner of the page.

An EBSCO account is not the same as your University account to sign in, but you may have already created an EBSCO account to save your Discovery searches or results, so you won't need to set up another. If you don't have one use the 'Create one now' option underneath the main Sign In boxes on the Sign In page:

EBSCOhost

Sign in

Sign in with Google

Or

Username

Password  Show

Forgot your password?

Sign in

Don't have an account? Create one now

You might want to use your University email address to set up your account as this may make it easier to remember your details.

Once you've correctly logged in and clicked the download link for the book, you'll need to select the number of days you'd like to check the book out for (up to a maximum of 7). If you've not already done so, you may need to download and sign into Adobe Digital Editions to view the book.

Download links to all the versions of Digital Editions, and a help guide, are available here: <http://bit.ly/MJLadobe>. You will need to create a separate Adobe account, if you don't already have one.

Taylor & Francis

Some books published by the Taylor & Francis group are hosted on their own platform.

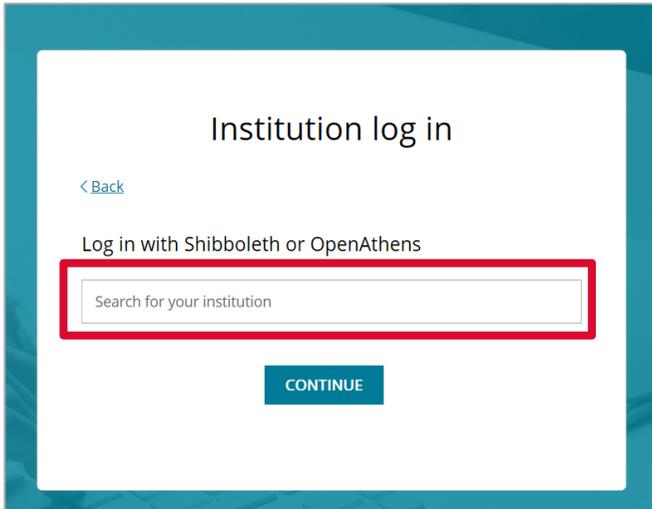

After clicking the link in the catalogue record, the details of the title will appear on a new page. Click the 'Get Access' button on the right-hand side of the page:

The screenshot shows the Taylor & Francis Group website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "Search for keywords, authors, titles, ISBN" and "Search all titles". The main content area features the book cover for "Thriving as a Professional Teacher: How to be a Principled Professional" edited by Ian Luke and Jan Gourd. The book details include: 1st Edition, First Published 2018, eBook Published 11 May 2018, Pub. location London, Imprint Routledge, DOI <https://doi.org/10.4324/9781315206219>, Pages 188 pages, eBook ISBN 9781315206219, and Subjects Education. On the right side, there is a message: "You currently do not have permission to access this title. Please click 'Get Access' to see if you or your institution has access to this content." Below this message are two buttons: "GET ACCESS" (highlighted with a red box) and "PREVIEW PDF". There are also social media sharing options for Share, Facebook, and Citation. A "RELATED BOOKS" section is partially visible at the bottom right, showing "The New Lives of".

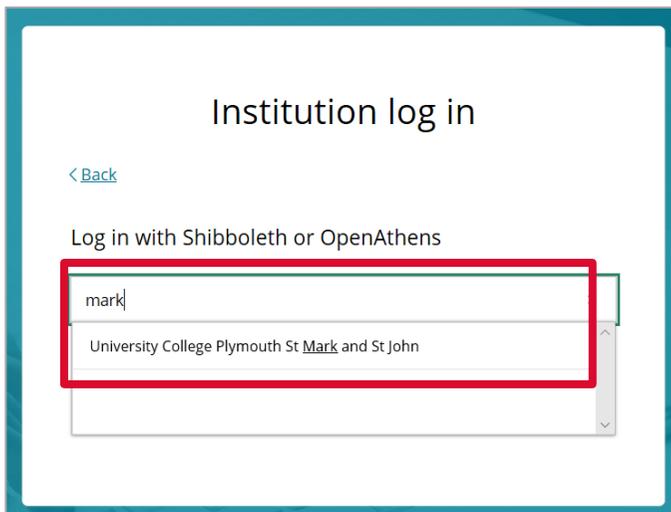

On the next page, click the 'With Shibboleth or OpenAthens' option on the right-hand side of the 'Log in to your Taylor & Francis account' box:

The screenshot shows the "Log in to your Taylor & Francis account" page. The page has a teal background. The main heading is "Log in to your Taylor & Francis account". On the left, there is a "With email" section with an "Email address" input field (containing a vertical bar), a "Password" input field, a "Remember me" checkbox, and a "LOG IN" button. A message below the email field says "Email address cannot be empty". A link for "Forgot password?" is also present. On the right, there are two options for institutional access: "With Shibboleth or OpenAthens" (highlighted with a red box) and "With ORCID". The "With Shibboleth or OpenAthens" option includes the text "to access research made available through your institution" and a right-pointing arrow. The "With ORCID" option includes the text "to submit your research for publication and access your dashboard" and a right-pointing arrow.

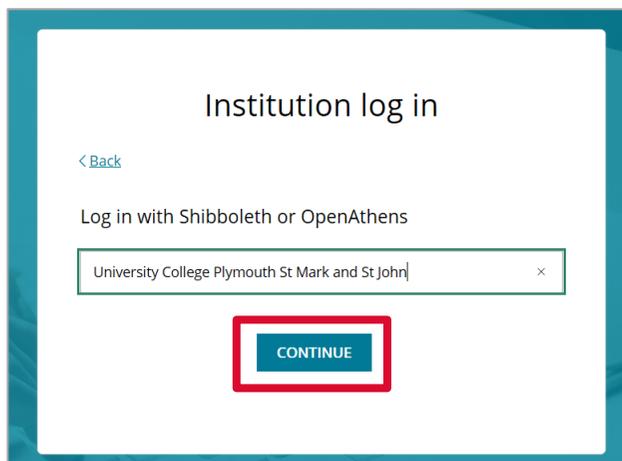

The next page has a 'Institution log in' box and a 'Search for your Institution' search bar:

Type 'mark' in this box and click on the 'University College Plymouth St Mark and St John' option that displays in the drop down:

Click 'Continue' below the search bar when the institution selection has been made:

On the next page the Marjon login box, where you can enter your standard University username and password, will appear:

If you've correctly logged in, the book you selected will display, along with the viewing options on the right-hand side of the page – for example 'Download' (as a PDF) and 'Read Online'

Issues with logging in to Taylor & Francis

Some users have reported a problem when first logging in to access a Taylor & Francis E-Book.

Occasionally, even when correctly logged in to a title that the University has purchased, the system will still ask you to buy the book or say you don't have permission to view the title. To solve this, just click the 'Hi User' button at the top right of the page and then click 'Logout'.

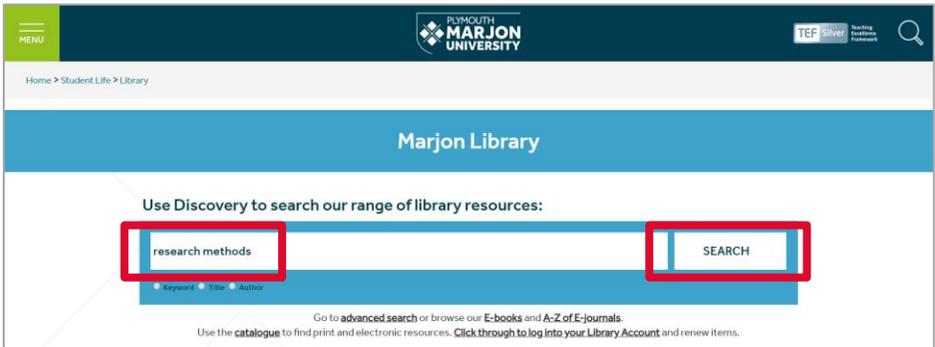

You should then log back in and the problem usually corrects itself. Failing this, try a complete clear of your browser cache - including history, cookies and stored passwords and try logging back in.

This error only seems to apply to first-time users of the site, and not everyone experiences this issue. We have had no reports of the error re-occurring after users have been able to successfully access an E-Book.

Using Discovery

Discovery can be accessed as search bar near the top of the Library webpage: <https://www.marjon.ac.uk/student-life/library/>

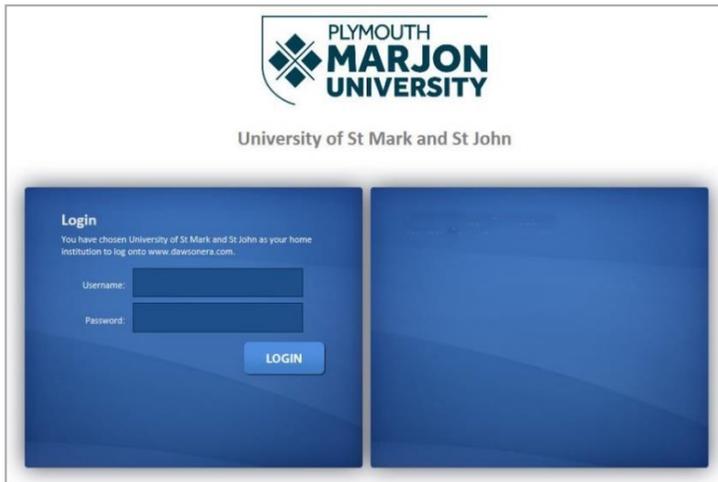

To find E-Books on Discovery type in your search term into the bar and click search:

You can use the ‘Keyword’, ‘Title’ or ‘Author’ radial button selector underneath the main search bar, but the search will still run without choosing one of these options.

If you are searching off campus, you will need to log in before your results will display.

Your log in is your standard University username and password.

This will display all the Library resources, so to limit to E-Books use the left-hand side bar. In the 'Limit to' section click on both 'Catalogue Only' and 'Full Text', to restrict the results to E-Books:

University of Strathclyde

This will then take you to the Marjon log-in page, where you can enter your standard University username and password:

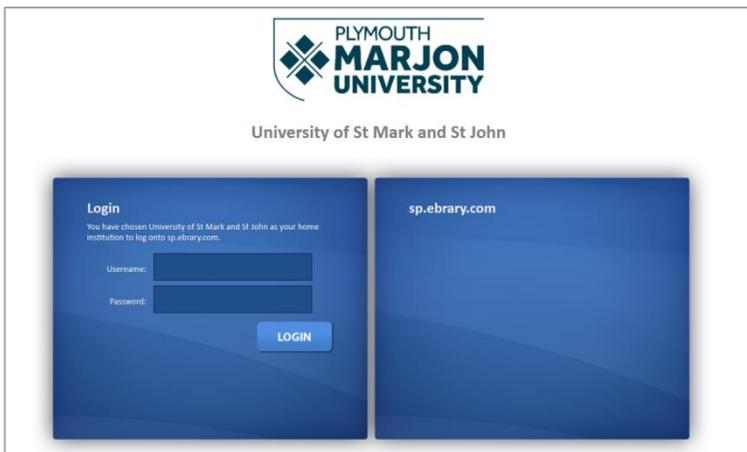

If you've correctly logged in, the book you originally selected will display, along with the viewing options on the left-hand side of the page. In this example you can 'Read Online' and/or 'Download Book'.

Route 2 (ProQuest):

Once the link is clicked the Marjon log-in page, where you can enter your standard University username and password, will appear:

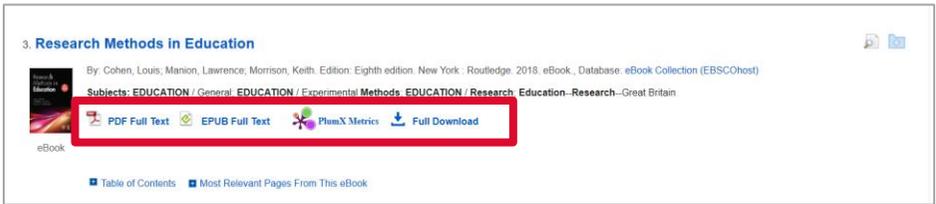

If you've correctly logged in, the book you originally selected will display, along with the viewing options on the left-hand side of the page. In this example you can 'Read Online' and/or 'Download Book':

EBSCO eBooks

If you've already correctly logged in to Discovery, viewing and download options appear beneath the citation information for the book – for example, 'PDF Full Text' 'EPUB' Full Text' or 'Full Download'.

Remember that PlumX Metrics just gives information on metrics such as number of uses – it isn't a download option.

EBSCO eBooks – Download

If you're trying to download an EBSCO E-Book you'll need to use the 'Sign In' option to login to your EBSCO account, at the top right of the page:

An EBSCO account is not the same as your University account, but you may have already created an EBSCO account to save your Discovery searches or results, so you won't need to set up another. If you don't have one, use the 'Create one now' option underneath the main Sign In boxes on the Sign In page:

You might want to use your University email address to set up your account as this may make it easier to remember your details.

Once you've correctly logged in and clicked the download link for the book, you'll need to select the number of days you'd like to check the book out for (up to a maximum of 7). If you've not already done so, you may need to download and sign into Adobe Digital Editions to view the book.

Download links to all the versions of Digital Editions, and a help guide, are available here: <http://bit.ly/MJLadobe>. You will need to create a separate Adobe account, if you don't already have one.

Taylor & Francis

A few books published by the Taylor & Francis group are hosted on their own platform.

The screenshot shows the Taylor & Francis Group website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "Search for keywords, authors, titles, ISBN" and "Search all titles". The main content area features the book cover for "Thriving as a Professional Teacher: How to be a Principled Professional" edited by Ian Luke and Jan Gourd. The book details include: 1st Edition, First Published 2018, eBook Published 11 May 2018, Pub. location London, Imprint Routledge, DOI <https://doi.org/10.4324/9781315206219>, Pages 188 pages, eBook ISBN 9781315206219, and Subjects Education. Below this message are two buttons: "GET ACCESS" (highlighted with a red box) and "PREVIEW PDF". There are also social media sharing options (Share, Facebook, Citation) and a "RELATED BOOKS" section showing "The New Lives of..."

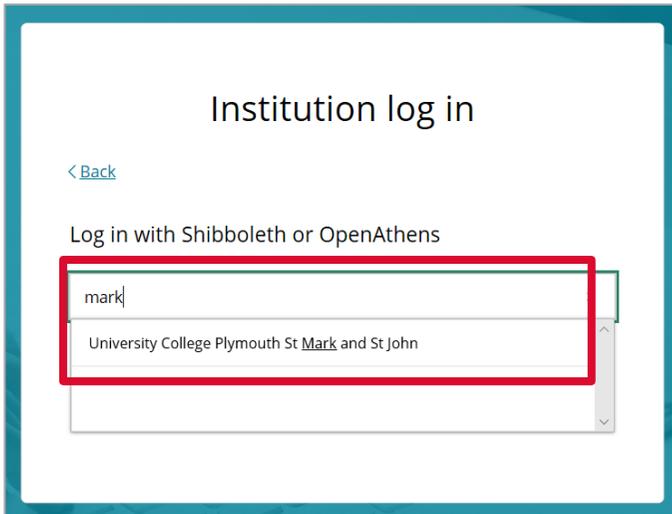

On the next page, click the 'With Shibboleth or OpenAthens' option on the right-hand side of the 'Log in to your Taylor & Francis account' box:

The screenshot shows the "Log in to your Taylor & Francis account" page. The page has a teal background with a white login form. The form includes a "With email" section with an "Email address" input field (containing the letter 'l') and a "Password" input field. Below these fields are a "Remember me" checkbox and a "Forgot password?" link. A "LOG IN" button is at the bottom of the form. On the right side of the login form, there are two options: "With Shibboleth or OpenAthens" (highlighted with a red box) and "With ORCID". The "With Shibboleth or OpenAthens" option includes the text "to access research made available through your institution" and a right-pointing arrow. The "With ORCID" option includes the text "to submit your research for publication and access your dashboard" and a right-pointing arrow.

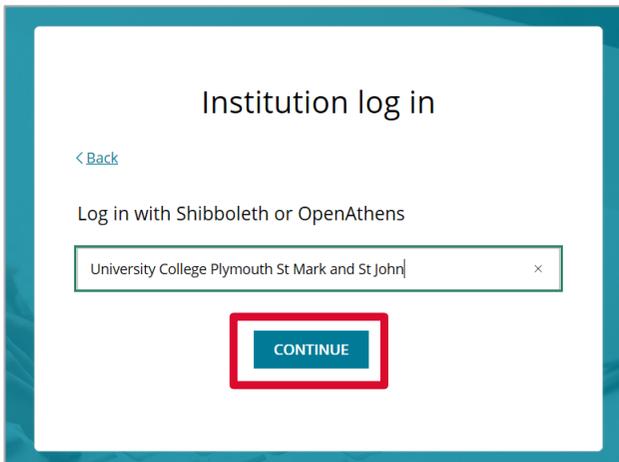

The next page has a 'Institution log in' box and a 'Search for your Institution' search bar:

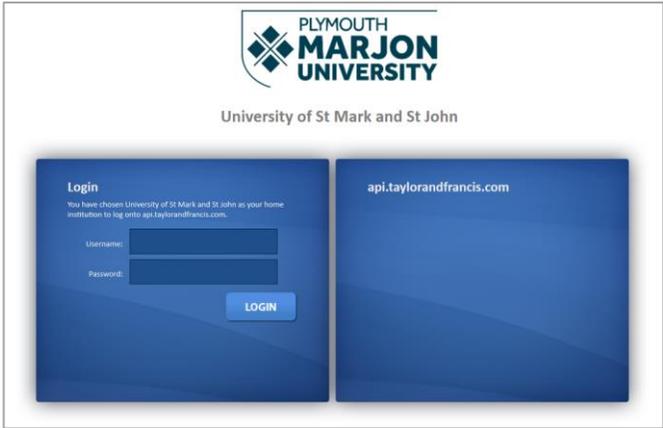

Type 'mark' in this box and click on the 'University College Plymouth St Mark and St John' option that displays in the drop down:

Click 'Continue' below the search bar when the institution selection has been made:

On the next page the Marjon login box, where you can enter your standard University username and password, will appear:

This error only seems to apply to first-time users of the site, and not everyone experiences this issue. We have had no reports of the error re-occurring after users have been able to successfully access an E-Book.

Browsing the provider websites

Once you're logged into any of the providers you can also search for E-Books directly. This method is useful if there are technical problems with the Library Catalogue or Discovery. However, to see all the E-Books we have on a subject, you will need to search all three sites separately.

Our three providers are:

Browns VLEBooks

Once logged in to VLEBooks you can use the search bar at the top of the page to search for keywords or exact terms:

The screenshot displays the VLEBooks website interface. At the top right, it says "Plymouth Marjon University". The main header is green and contains the "VLEBOOKS" logo on the left and a search bar in the center with the placeholder text "Search VleBooks...". Below the header is a navigation bar with icons for Home, Bookshelf, Advanced Search, and Help on the left, and My Account and Logout on the right. On the left side, there is a sidebar menu with options like "Email your library", "Edit Accessibility Settings", "My Bookshelves", and "Browse". The "Browse" section lists various categories such as "In My Library", "All eBooks", "Book Categories", "Art & Photography", "Business, Finance and Law", "Children's", "Computing", "Education", "Health & Lifestyle", "History & Transport", "Music, Stage & Screen", "Politics, Philosophy & Religion", "Reference", "Reference & Languages", "Scientific, Technical and Medical", and "Sport". The main content area features a "Welcome to VLeBooks.com" message, a "READ ONLINE" banner with a tree of icons and a laptop icon, and a "Just Arrived" section displaying several book covers.

The list that displays automatically shows everything that the Library has access to. To view the book click the title to be taken to the item details page:

If the download option is available, after clicking the 'Download' link a pop-up box displays, with a drop-down menu where you can select the loan period:

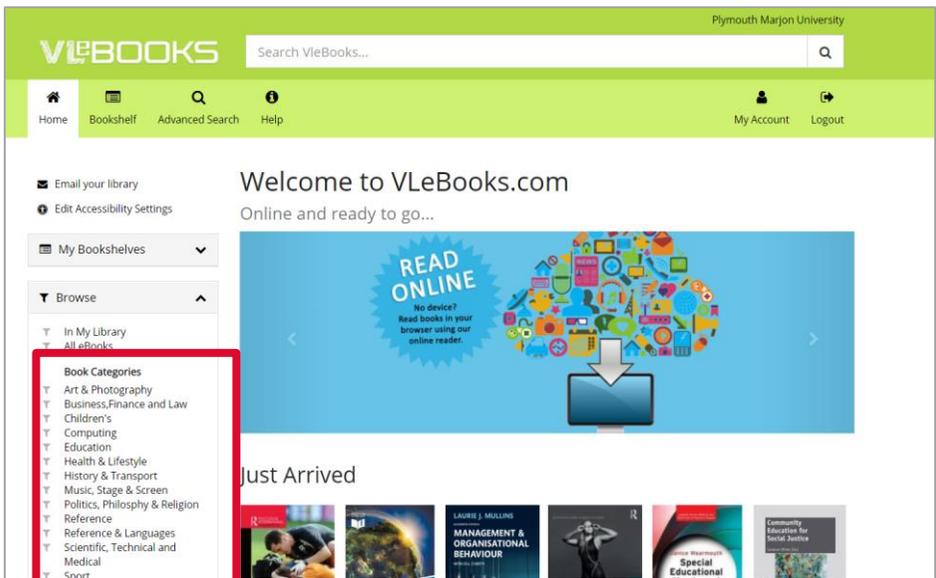

The platform will then generate an E-Book download link, which displays as a progress bar. When it's complete a link will appear on the page:

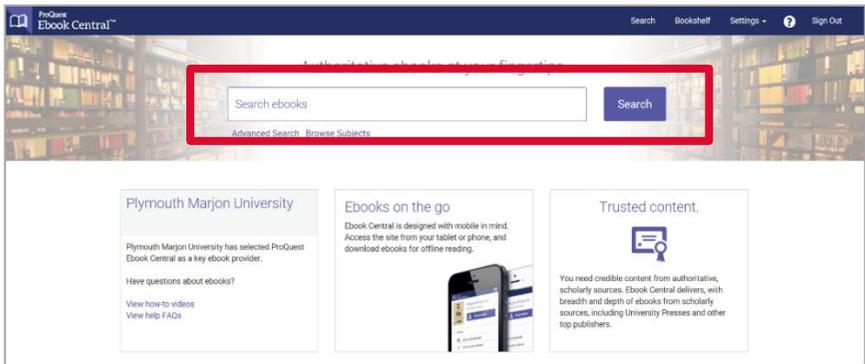

You'll need to have Adobe Digital Editions, which is free, installed to view the downloaded file. A link and instructions are provided at the bottom of the page with the download link, or you can find the software here: <http://bit.ly/MJLadobe>

On the homepage for Browns VLEBooks, you can also use the 'Book Categories' option in the left-hand side bar to browse different subject areas:

ProQuest Ebook Central

If you've successfully logged in to ProQuest Ebook Central, you can use the search bar near the top of the page to search for keywords or exact terms:

The list that displays automatically shows all the E-Books that the Library has access to:

Click on the title of the book you want to view, displayed in blue, and the full details will display. The options for reading the book are given in the 'Availability' section in the middle of the page. In the example in the picture, this title can be read online in its entirety, or a chapter (or specified page range) can be downloaded:

The screenshot shows the ProQuest Ebook Central interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "Keyword, Author, ISBN, and more" and a search icon. To the right of the search bar are links for "Advanced Search" and "Browse Subjects". The user's name, "Plymouth Marjor", is visible in the top right corner. Below the search bar, there is a "Return to Search Results" link. The main content area displays the book title "Research and Education" by Will Curtis, Mark Murphy, Sam Shields, and Mark Murphy. A red box highlights the "Availability" section, which includes a message: "Your institution has access to 1 copy of this book". Below this message, there are three options: "Read Online", "Not Available for Full Download", and "Download PDF Chapter". The "Not Available for Full Download" option is highlighted with a red box. To the right of these options, there are two indicators: "36 pages remaining for copy (of 36)" and "40 pages remaining for PDF print/chapter download (of 50)". Below the availability section is the "Description" section, which contains a paragraph of text. On the right side of the interface, there is a "Book Details" section with fields for Title, Series, Authors, Publisher, Print Pub Date, Ebook Pub Date, and Language.

EBSCO eBooks

EBSCO eBooks are most easily accessed from Discovery, so if you'd like to browse all of them in one place once you've entered your search term, you'll need to apply a couple of limiters.

In the 'Limit To' section of the left-hand side bar click the check box next to 'Full Text' and the list will automatically update.

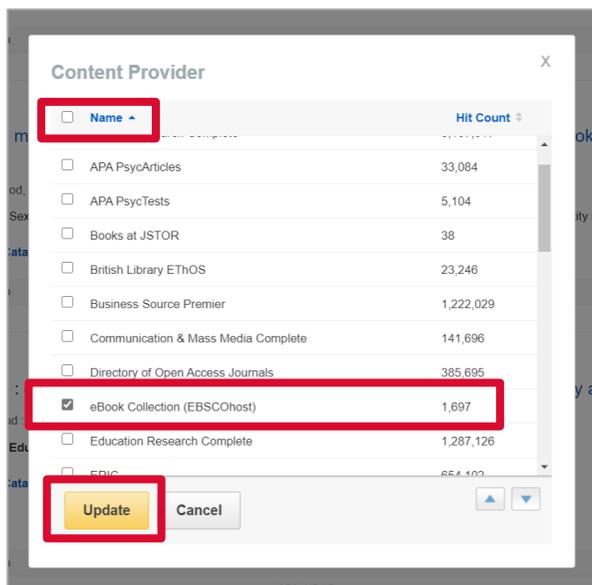

The screenshot shows a search interface for Marjon University. At the top, there is a search bar with the keyword 'education' and a dropdown menu labeled 'Keyword'. Below the search bar are links for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search', and 'Search History'. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column is titled 'Refine Results' and contains several sections: 'Current Search' with the term 'education', 'Expanders' with options to search within full text and apply equivalent subjects, 'Limiters' (highlighted with a red box) with a 'Full Text' filter, and 'Limit To' with checkboxes for 'Full Text', 'Catalogue Only', and 'Peer Reviewed', along with a date range from 1203 to 2021. The right column shows 'Search Results: 1 - 30 of 10,606,246'. It features a 'START YOUR RESEARCH' section with a lightbulb icon, a 'Education: Research Starters Topic' card, and a list of results starting with '1. Dialogic education : mastering core concepts by Wegerif.' Below this, there is a book icon, author information 'By: Phillipson, Neil. London, [England] ; New York, N.Y. : Routledge, 2017.', subject information 'Subjects: Communication in education; Teacher education; Education--Study and teaching--Research--Methodology--Case studies.', and a 'Location' section showing 'EBOOK'. There are also links for 'Retrieve Catalogue Item' and 'PlumX Metrics'.

You'll then need to scroll down the page to the 'Content Provider' option in the same left-hand bar. You need to find the option for 'eBook Collection (EBSCOhost)', but as Discovery prioritises this list by number of items, it's not likely to be in the short version of the list.

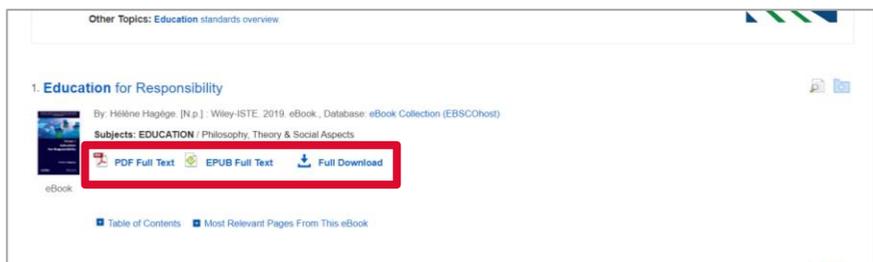

Instead click the blue 'Show More' link at the bottom of the section to expand the list.

Collection &gt; <hr/> Content Provider v <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li><input checked="" type="checkbox"/> All Providers</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Academic Search Complete (3,107,917)</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Education Research Complete (1,287,126)</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Business Source Premier (1,222,029)</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> Scopus® (895,138)</li> <li><input type="checkbox"/> ERIC (654,102)</li> </ul> Show More	  Book  5. A new pop-up box will display and if you click the blue 'Name' option at the very top of the list the list will reorganise into alphabetical order. You can then scroll down and select the checkbox next to 'eBook Collection (EBSCOhost)' and then click the yellow 'Update' button at the bottom of this box to apply the limiter.

The list that displays will then be all the E-Books that the Library has purchased from EBSCO as you can use the options at the bottom of each record to view or download the books or click the title for more detailed information.

Taylor & Francis

Once you're logged in to Taylor & Francis you can use the search bar at the top of any page to search for keywords, authors, titles or ISBNs.

The screenshot shows the Taylor & Francis Group website. At the top, there is a search bar with the text "Search for keywords, authors, titles, ISBN" and a dropdown menu for "Search all titles". A red box highlights the search bar area. Below the search bar, the book "Thriving as a Professional Teacher: How to be a Principled Professional" is displayed. The book cover is on the left, and the title and author information are in the center. On the right, there are buttons for "DOWNLOAD" and "READ ONLINE", along with the file size "PDF 16.84MB". Below the book information, there is a "RELATED BOOKS" section featuring "The New Lives of Teachers" by Christopher Day, Qing Gu. At the bottom, there is a short description of the book: "Thriving as a Professional Teacher explores the tensions and balance between developing the classroom you know will be best for the children you teach, and facing external pressures such as Ofsted, performance".

When the search result list loads make sure you click the box that says 'Show content I have access to' in the left-hand 'Filter By' tool bar:

The screenshot shows the Taylor & Francis Group website with a search result list for the keyword "education". The search bar at the top contains the word "education". Below the search bar, it says "Showing 42 results for: 'education'". On the left side, there is a "Filter By" tool bar. A red box highlights the checkbox labeled "Show content I have access to", which is currently checked. Below the "Filter By" tool bar, there is a "SUBJECT" filter with a "View all" link. The "SUBJECT" filter shows the following results: Education (28), Sports and Leisure (10), Social Sciences (9), and Economics, Finance, Bus... (6). On the right side, there is a list of search results. The first result is a book titled "International Review of History Education" by Mario Carretero and James Voss. The second result is a book titled "Education in Scotland".

This will limit your results to everything you can view – which will be a mix of items the Library has purchased, and books that you can view as open access items.

To access the item, click anywhere in the box that gives the item details.
